

Services are provided in home for either general ed. or special ed. students.

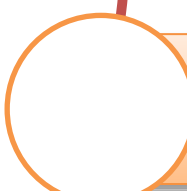

Student receives special ed. and related services from specially trained staff in a residential facility.

Student receives special ed. and related services by specially trained staff in a specially designed facility (day program).

Student attends a separate class for most or all the school day receiving special education instruction with possible related services.

Student is in the gen. ed. classroom for the majority of the school day but goes to the special education resource room for specialized instruction for part of the school day.

